GOP in this segment is expected to grow from €3.6m to €4.9m.

1.4 Operational Developments

1.4.1 Manufacturing and Retail

The Group will continue to focus on growing sales, increasing margins, and streamlining operations across its retail division, both in Malta and overseas, with the goal of strengthening overall profitability. Simultaneously, the manufacturing segment will target selective and sustainable growth, ensuring that new initiatives align with market demand and the Group's operational expertise.

A key development in 2026 will be the opening of six additional mono-brand stores within the new St. George's Mall, scheduled to launch in April 2026. The Group also plans to expand its presence in Poland with the introduction of two new stores: a second Gagliardi outlet and the Group's first Polo Ralph Lauren mono-brand store in the country.

1.4.2 Hospitality

The Group will concentrate on consolidating and optimising its expanded hospitality portfolio. With development works fully completed and operations fully integrated, the priority is to drive operational efficiency and performance across all four properties. The Group will maintain its focus on a high level of quality and guest satisfaction as well as achieving strong occupancy and rate growth. Management aims to enhance GOP margins through disciplined financial control and targeted budgeting.

Part 2 - Historical Performance and Forecasts

The financial information in sections 2.1 to 2.3 is extracted from the audited financial statements of the Issuer for the financial years ended 31 October 2023, 2024 and 2025. The financial information in section 2.4 to 2.6 is extracted from the audited financial statements of the Guarantor for the financial years ended 31 October 2023, 2024 and 2025.

The forecasted financial information for the year ending 31 October 2026 has been provided by the Group's management. This financial information relates to events in the future and are based on assumptions which the Group believes to be reasonable. Consequently, the actual outcome may be adversely affected by unforeseen situations and the variation between forecast and actual results may be material.

Net Margin (Profit after tax / Finance income)	-3.0%	14.8%	0.6%	0.4%

The Issuer has limited trading activity since it acts solely as a finance vehicle.

During FY2025, finance income amounted to €568k whilst the finance costs amounted to €506k resulting in a net finance income of roughly €62k, which has been very stable since FY2023 increasing by just €3k. These reflect the 3.75% coupon incurred on the outstanding €12.75m bond issue along with its amortised costs.

The administrative expenses, which consist of annual listing fees, compliance costs, and directors' and professional fees, amounted to €59k in FY2025. The Issuer had no tax expenses in FY2025, closing the year with a profit after tax of €3k.

The Issuer is forecasting similar movements in FY2026F.

Total equity and liabilities	13,380	13,482	13,500	13,530

In FY2025 total assets amounted to €13.5m, remaining stable since FY2023. Loans and receivables accounted for 92.9%, with the remainder made up of current receivables and cash and cash equivalents.

The equity base increased to €358k in FY2025 mainly due to higher retained earnings of €108k, which is in line with the registered profit during FY2025. For the same reason in FY2026, the retained earnings are forecasted to be higher by €2k leading to a slight rise in the overall equity base.

On the liabilities side, the accumulated amortisation of the bond issue increased by €29k.

The Issuer also recognised a current tax liability of €3k during FY2025. However, the Issuer did not register any payables, which decreased the total current liabilities to €451k. For FY2026, management anticipates no payables, and current tax liabilities to remain at the level of €3k.

2.3 Issuer's Statement of Cash Flows

Cash and cash equivalents at end of year	363	371	410	439

Due to the Issuer only being a finance company for the group, its trading activity is limited and generates no cash from investing or financing activities.

Cash generated from operating activities, however, increased when compared to FY2024 mainly due to higher Interest received.

The overall cash position at the end of the year increased to €410k mainly due to the interest received being slightly higher than the cash used in operations and the interest paid. In FY2025 the Issuers cash position is expected to remain relatively stable, increasing by €29k.

Total revenue	22,732	23,866	27,935	33,454

Overall performance

The Group experienced a strong operational year in FY2025 with both revenue and EBITDA increasing in both segments. More specifically, EBITDA in the hospitality sector increased from €2.9m to €3.6m whilst EBITDA in the apparel sector increased from €2.3m to €2.4m.

Revenue

Total revenue increased by 17.1% from €23.9m in FY2024 to €27.9m in FY2025. The growth in revenue was primarily driven by the apparel division, whose revenues rose from €15.9m to €17.7m, representing an 11.7% increase. Growth in this segment was fuelled by stronger retail activity. Total revenue in the hospitality segment also grew from €8.0m to €10.2m with the opening of two new hotels Les Bains and La Galerie. As anticipated by management, the Group registered no property sales during FY2025.

Gross operating profit

Gross operating profit increased from €2.9m to €3.6m in the hospitality segment with margins increasing from 36.5% to 39.1%. In the apparel segment gross operating profit increased from €2.3m to €2.4m with margins decreasing from 14.6% to 13.7%.

Non-recurring charges in the apparel segment included a €626k provision from inventory impairment, an impairment on the group's investment in Serbia as well as a €500k write off.

EBITDA growth resulted mainly from increased revenue and margins from the hospitality sector (from €2.9m to €3.6m) and also from an increase in the apparel segment (from €2.3m to €2.4m).

Depreciation and amortisation increased to €2.4m from €2.0m in the prior year, largely due to capital expenditure associated with new hospitality projects and the continued development of the retail network. As a result, EBIT declined from €3.3m in FY2024 to €3.1m in FY2025, and the Group's EBIT margin dropped to 10.9%.

The Group recognised a €1.6m fair value gain on its investment property portfolio, which provided an uplift to profit before tax. Finance costs rose slightly to €1.6m while results from associates and joint ventures turned negative, with a €128k loss compared to a €75k profit in FY2024. Taking these items together, profit before tax improved from €2.1m to €3.1m. However, net profit fell significantly from €6.8m to €2.3m. This decline is explained entirely by the one-off recognition of a €4.7m deferred tax asset in FY2024 arising from Group restructuring. Excluding this extraordinary item, the Group's underlying profitability actually strengthened in FY2025 from €2.1m to €3.1m.

Looking ahead to FY2026, the Group is forecasting continued growth, with revenues expected to reach €33.5m (an increase of 19.8% over FY2025). The apparel segment is projected to increase revenues from €17.7m to €21.1m (+19.3%), supported by the launch of a new Ralph Lauren store in Valletta and the opening of six new outlets at the St. George's Mall. These developments are expected to further consolidate the Group's market presence and drive incremental sales. In the hospitality segment, revenues are anticipated to grow from €10.2m to €12.3m (+20.5%). This outlook is driven by the first full year of operations for Les Bains and La Galerie, and continued growth in catering activities.

The Group expects EBITDA to increase significantly from €5.4m to €7.6m in FY2026, reflecting both revenue expansion and improved operating leverage following the normalisation of hotel operations. EBIT is forecast to rise from €3.1m to €5.3m, marking an uplift in operating profitability as depreciation levels stabilise and margin performance recovers.

The revenue forecast for FY2025 had been set at €26.7m, whereas actual revenue reached €27.9m, exceeding expectations by €1.2m. This positive variance was almost entirely attributable to €1.0m in catering income generated by the Gourmet during the year, which had not been included in the initial projections.

The Group's gross profit was €12.2m, compared to a forecast of €14.2m, resulting in an adverse variance of €2.1m. This shortfall is attributed to the cost of sales directly related to the catering income generated by Gourmet, as well as non-recurring charges within the apparel segment. These included a €626k provision for inventory impairment, an impairment on the Group's investment in Serbia, and a €500k write-off relating to inventory used in hire operations.

EBITDA totalled €5.4m, compared to a forecast of €6.6m, resulting in a negative variance of €1.2m.

Depreciation and amortisation exceeded forecast by €279k, reflecting the higher-than-expected level of capital expenditure completed during the year. This included additional investments in hospitality and retail enhancements that were not fully anticipated in the original 2025 budget.

As a result of both lower EBITDA and higher depreciation, EBIT amounted to €3.1m, falling €1.5m short of the forecast figure of €4.5m.

During the year the Group recognised a €1.6m fair value gain on investment property, which had not been forecast.

Conversely, finance costs were €345k higher than expected, driven by increased borrowings used to fund the Group's capital investment programme throughout FY2025.

Despite these mixed movements, the Group's profit before tax of €3.1m was only slightly below the forecast of €3.4m, reflecting a relatively small negative variance of €293k.

The Group's financial position strengthened in FY2025, with total assets increasing from €89.0m in FY2024 to €111.4m in FY2025, representing a substantial year-on-year expansion of €22.4m. This uplift was primarily driven by the Group's investment programme in its hotel and retail assets, as reflected in the sharp rise in property, plant and equipment (PPE). PPE increased from €50.1m to €68.1m, an €18.0m increase. This growth stemmed from €13.3m of additions relating mainly to land and buildings, plant and equipment, furniture, fixtures, fittings, soft furnishings and assets under construction, as well as a €7.1m revaluation uplift on land and buildings forming part of the hotel's portfolio following an independent valuation exercise.

The revaluation exercise covered all PPE owned by the Group, with the largest uplift attributable to the hospitality segment, specifically the properties 1926 Le Soleil and 1926 Le Parisot (amounting to approximately €6m). The remaining uplift was related to the Group's offices in Sliema and its retail outlets in Mriehel and Mosta.

In addition to the expansion in PPE, investment property also increased materially, rising from €6.5m in FY2024 to €9.0m in FY2025. This €2.5m increase was primarily driven by a €1.6m fair value gain recognised during the year, arising from the valuation of investment properties, namely apartments in Mosta and offices in Mriehel.

On the current asset side, the Group remained stable, with total current assets decreasing marginally from €19.9m to €19.4m. Cash and cash equivalents declined from €2.5m to €1.9m, representing a reduction of €587k. This decline aligns with the Group's active investment period, as cash resources were channelled into capital expenditure and projects.

Management does not anticipate any significant changes in the Group's total asset base in FY2026, with total assets forecast to remain broadly stable at €111.1m. The stabilisation reflects a shift from heavy investment activities in FY2025 towards a year of operational consolidation in FY2026, during which newly opened hotels are expected to drive stronger performance.

Equity increased materially during FY2025, rising from €48.2m to €56.4m, an €8.2m improvement. This uplift was largely driven by higher retained earnings, which increased by €1.8m, and a €6.4m increase in revaluation reserves following mainly the revaluation of hotel properties. These movements strengthened the Group's capital base and enhanced its asset-backed position. Equity is projected to grow further in FY2026, reaching €60.0m, driven primarily by continued growth in retained earnings supported by the projected improvement in profitability.

Total liabilities rose from €40.8m in FY2024 to €55.0m in FY2025, an increase of €14.2m. Notably, non-current liabilities now represent 81.4% of total liabilities, consistent with the Group's long-term asset profile and funding strategy. Long Term Borrowings increased from €22.7m to €29.8m, as the Group financed its expansion and refurbishment programme through bank financing.

Lease liabilities also increased significantly from €6.9m to €9.2m, reflecting the Group's additional leased hospitality premises. Deferred tax liabilities increased to €5.7m, partly reflecting the revaluation gains recognised during the year. Current liabilities increased from €7.3m to €10.2m, driven mainly by higher trade and other payables linked to ongoing projects. Borrowings due within one year also increased to €4.0m. The Group's liability base is expected to decrease slightly to €51.2m in FY2026 as certain long-term borrowings amortise and lease liabilities reduce.

From a ratio perspective, several key financial indicators changed in FY2025. The Group's gearing ratio (net debt / equity) slightly increased mainly as a result of the higher borrowings, reflecting a more leveraged position to support the capital investment cycle. However, the increase in asset valuations and the corresponding rise in equity helped buffer the impact of higher borrowings, maintaining a balanced capital structure. Liquidity metrics, particularly the current ratio, softened slightly from 2.7x to around 1.9x due to higher current liabilities and lower cash balance. Interest coverage remained remarkably strong and is projected to strengthen further in FY2026 along with improved gearing ratios.

The Group's cash flow dynamics in FY2025 reflect a year of strong operational activity coupled with a heavy investment cycle, leading to a temporary reduction in liquidity despite healthy underlying cash generation.

Cash generated from operating activities increased from €5.6m in FY2024 to €6.5m in FY2025, an improvement of €947k. This uplift was primarily driven by the increase in sales across both the apparel and hospitality segments, supported by stable working capital movements. Net cash from operating activities accordingly increased to €5.0m (FY2024: €4.0m), despite slightly higher interest costs during the year. While interest paid rose from €1.5m to €1.6m due to higher borrowings and prevailing financing costs, the Group still delivered stronger operating cash flow.

Net cash used in investing activities reached €13.4m, more than doubling the FY2024 figure (€5.8m). This was directly attributable to the intensive capital expenditure programme undertaken during the year, including major investments in hotel developments, enhancements, and the expansion of retail and hospitality facilities. For FY2026, capital expenditure is expected to normalise significantly, with a planned outflow of €3.9m primarily relating to further enhancements. This includes investment in the six new sub-outlets in St. George's Mall, the development of two additional outlets in Poland, and the programmed annual capital expenditure requirements within the hospitality segment.

Financing activities provided an important source of liquidity in FY2025, offsetting part of the heavy investment outflows. Net cash generated from financing activities increased markedly to €7.0m compared to €1.2m in FY2024. This increase was driven predominantly by additional bank borrowings amounting to €7.6m, significantly higher than the €1.9m raised in the prior year.

The combined effect of higher operating cash generation, substantial investing outflows and increased financing inflows resulted in an overall decrease of €1.4m in cash and cash equivalents during FY2025. Cash balances (including overdraft facilities) moved from €0.7m at the beginning of the year to a net overdraft of €0.8m at year-end, a reduction aligned with the Group's capital deployment strategy. Management anticipates operating activities to generate €8.1m in FY2026, with capex significantly lower than FY2025 levels. This will result in a materially improved cash position for the Group, resulting in a projected closing cash balance of €1.5m.

Part 3 - Key Market and Competitor Data

3.1 General Market Conditions

The Issuer is subject to general market and economic risks that may have a significant impact on its current and future property developments and their timely completion within budget. These include factors such as the health of the local property market, inflation and fluctuations in interest rates, exchange rates, property prices and rental rates. In the event that general economic conditions and property market conditions experience a downturn, which is not contemplated in the Issuer's planning during development, this shall have an adverse impact on the financial condition of the Issuer and may therefore affect the ability of the Issuer to meet its obligations under the Bonds.

3.2 Malta Economic Update³

The Bank's Business Conditions Index indicates that in February, annual growth in business activity edged up slightly from the level in the preceding month and remained above its historical average. In February, the European Commission's Economic Sentiment Indicator declined from the historic high reached a month earlier but remained elevated. Meanwhile, the Employment Expectations Indicator fell and stood below its long-term average.

The Economic Uncertainty Indicator (EUI) turned positive, indicating higher uncertainty surrounding financial and business decisions. In January, industrial production increased in year-on-year terms, after declining in the preceding month, while year-on-year growth in retail trade was unchanged. Services output fell over the 12 months to December after showing no growth a month earlier. The unemployment rate stood at 3.4% in January - 0.2 percentage point higher than the rate recorded in December. In January, permits for residential buildings decreased from their year-ago level.

In February, both the number of residential promise-of-sale agreements and the number of final deeds of sale increased on a year earlier. The annual inflation rate based on the Harmonised Index of Consumer Prices (HICP) stood at 2.3% in February, unchanged from the previous month. HICP inflation excluding food and energy stood at 2.2%. While overall HICP inflation was above that in the euro area, HICP inflation excluding food and energy in Malta stood below it.

According to the Retail Price Index (RPI), inflation in February remained unchanged at 2.5%. In January, the Consolidated Fund registered a lower deficit compared to the shortfall recorded a year earlier, as an increase in government revenue outweighed a rise in government expenditure. The annual rate of change of Maltese residents' deposits and credit, moderated in January compared with December.

3.3. Economic Outlook⁴

According to the Bank's latest forecasts, Malta's real GDP growth is set to remain stable at 3.7% over 2026-2028. Compared to the Bank's previous projections, the outlook for GDP growth over this period remains unchanged. Growth over the projection horizon is expected to be led by private consumption, which is projected to continue to grow at a brisk pace, in part supported by recent changes to income tax bands. Net exports are also projected to contribute positively to GDP growth over the forecast horizon, driven by trade in services. However, this contribution is set to be smaller than that of domestic demand. Employment growth is expected to moderate gradually to 2.3% by 2028.

The unemployment rate is forecast to edge down to 2.8% from this year. Wage growth is expected to remain strong but is set to moderate throughout the projection horizon as labour market tightness is set to ease. HICP inflation is projected to stand at 2.3% in 2026, reflecting a decline in services inflation. Overall inflation is expected to ease further to 2.1% in 2027 and 2.0% in 2028, driven primarily by lower services inflation. Meanwhile, HICP excluding energy and food is also projected to decline and reach 1.9% in 2028. Compared to the Bank's previous forecast publication, overall HICP inflation is left broadly unrevised throughout the projection horizon.

⁴ Central Bank of Malta – Economic Outlook 02/2026

The general government deficit-to-GDP ratio is projected to decline steadily over the forecast horizon, falling from an estimated 3.0% in 2025 to 2.8% in 2026 and 2.4% in 2027, before narrowing further to 2.0% by 2028. The general government debt-to-GDP ratio is expected to reach a peak of 47.1% in 2026, before easing to 46.2% by 2028. Compared with the Bank's December projections, the deficit-to-GDP ratio between 2026 and 2028 has been revised down by around 0.1 percentage point of GDP in each year. Risks to activity are broadly balanced. Downside risks largely emanate from possible continued weakness in the international economic environment as well as elevated geopolitical uncertainty.

On the other hand, employment and wages could exhibit even stronger dynamics than envisaged, especially in the medium term. This would result in higher private consumption growth and thus raise output growth more than envisaged. Risks to inflation are slightly tilted to the upside over the projection horizon. Upside risks to inflation could stem from the persistence in services inflation. Food inflation could turn higher than expected in the presence of adverse climate effects. Having said this, some downside risks remain, particularly arising from the re-routing of exports from competitor countries to the EU and heightened competitive pressures in markets targeted by tariffs.

Additionally, a renewal of trade tensions between the US and its trading partners could amplify uncertainty and further dampen global growth, putting more downward pressure on imported inflation. On the fiscal side, risks are deficit-increasing. These predominantly stem from the possibility of slippages in current expenditure, such as higher-than-expected spending on energy support measures should commodity prices exceed assumptions, as well as wage-related outlays. These risks are partly mitigated by the likelihood of additional revenue windfalls.

3.4. Tourism⁵

Comparison between the data of 2024 and 2025 provides valuable insights into the trajectory of the local tourism industry over the span of a single year, reflecting the pace and direction of recovery following the disruptions caused by the pandemic.

Inbound tourist arrivals experienced a notable surge from 3,564k in 2024 to 4,022k in 2025, marking an impressive increase of 12.9%. This significant uptick underscores the industry's robust recovery momentum and highlights the successful implementation of strategic initiatives aimed at rejuvenating tourism demand and stimulating visitor traffic.

Correspondingly, the metric of tourist guest nights witnessed a substantial growth, escalating from 22,900k in 2024 to 25,400k in 2025, reflecting a noteworthy increase of 11.0%. This surge in guest nights not only indicates a resurgence in tourist engagement but also underscores the sustained interest and participation in the local tourism offerings, contributing to the overall vibrancy of the sector.

On the economic front, tourist expenditure exhibited a remarkable increase from €3,300m in 2024 to €3,904m in 2025, depicting a substantial surge of 18.3%. This surge in spending reflects the revitalization of tourism-related economic activities and underscores the sector's pivotal role in driving economic growth and employment.

Furthermore, the metric of tourist expenditure per capita demonstrated a modest increase, rising from €924 in 2024 to €971 in 2025, representing a marginal increment of 5.1%. While this increase reflects improved spending capacity and propensity among tourists, further analysis is required to discern the underlying factors influencing spending behaviour and patterns.
